MAXIMIZE THE LIFE OF YOUR COMBINER

$59,000 Savings from Minimizing Maintenance and Reducing Product Loss

Combiner solutions are one of the most critical applications on your line. They need to move products smoothly around the production line without damage while operating at high or multiple speeds. The rapid speed of the combiner/decombiner can cause chain elongation, impacting the overall equipment life of your application, and ultimately causing product damage. Regal Rexnord's Application Conveyor Experts leverage our automated technology and a best-in-class product portfolio to assist with component selection, design, installation and training. They ensure your equipment is reaching its full service life, improving product stability and reducing costs associated with lubrication.
